

THE HAMLIN HERALD

30th YEAR—EVERY WEEK SINCE 1905.

HAMLIN, JONES COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, AUGUST 23, 1935.

NUMBER 43.

Hamlin School Enrollment Starts Tues. Sept. 3rd.

GENERAL OPENING, MON. Sept. 9

SPECIAL NOTICES:

The enrollment of pupils and the scheduling of programs will be the only work done in the Hamlin schools the first week in September. Regular class work will begin Monday, September 9th.

It is absolutely necessary, however, that every pupil who intends to enroll in the Hamlin schools should do so at the time designated below. This is necessary in order that the number of classes and the number of teachers may be accurately determined at the beginning of the session.

Parents are asked, therefore, to co-operate with us by having their children enroll the first week in next month.

The following are the dates set for enrollment:

FOR THOSE COMING IN SCHOOL

BUSSES—TUES., SEPT. 3rd

Those pupils coming in school busses will be enrolled and given books, Tuesday, September 3rd, 8:40 A. M. Presentation of a book card and a record of last year's school work will be necessary for classification. No entrance examination will be required.

The new Hamlin school busses will make their initial routes on the above date. Time bus schedules will be adopted before this date and interested pupils will be notified in advance.

FOR OTHER NEW PUPILS—

WED., SEPT. 4th

All new pupils, other than those coming in school busses, who did not attend the Hamlin schools last session, including those entering for their first time, are asked to enroll Wednesday, September 4th, at 8:40 A. M. Those entering any of the first four grades should report to the Grammar School Building, and all others should report to the High School Building. Do not forget the report cards.

FOR THOSE WHO ATTENDED

HAMLIN SCHOOLS LAST YEAR, THURS., SEPT. 5th.

All pupils who attended the Hamlin schools last year, except those coming in school busses, are asked to enroll Thursday, September 5th, 8:40 A. M. The first four grades will be enrolled in the Grammar School Building, and the other grades in the High School Building.

HAMLIN NEW SCHOOL BUSES

Probably a little explanation is necessary as to why Hamlin is purchasing and operating school busses. High school grades are being eliminated from our neighboring school districts and Hamlin business interests demand that Hamlin school busses go out and bring to the Hamlin schools the children whose grades are not taught in their home districts, wherever the road conditions and the number of pupils will at all justify such action.

TO ALL NEW PUPILS

We gladly welcome all new pupils into our schools and guarantee you all of the courtesies, opportunities, and encouragement it is possible for our town, our faculty, and our students to give you. We have a new high school building not excelled anywhere in the state in arrangement for school activities and in school equipment.

FIRST BALE COTTON ARRIVED

Thursday, Hamlin received her first 1935 bale of cotton.

Full particulars could not be gathered before going to press.

Watch for a good cotton article next week.

MR. AND MRS. VERNON HARRIS

THANK PEOPLE

We take this method of thanking all of you who have given to us so liberally in our time of need. It is a terrible thing to see ones home and your dearest possessions go up in flames, but you, our dear friends, have made it much easier to bear, because of your thoughtfulness and kindness to us.

Sincerely,

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris who live on the Mrs. Lee farms seven miles southwest of Hamlin lost their house by fire about two weeks ago. Mrs. Harris and a nephew were planning to linseed-oil the floors and had a bucket of the oil on the stove and it boiled over and caught fire, resulting in a quick loss of house and contents.

On account of our building program the date for our summer revival had to be changed the second time. The final date of the revival is September 10-22. Rev. E. G. Theus, of Bethany, Oklahoma, will do the preaching. Mr. Theus is an experienced evangelist with also a number of years pastoral experience.

Mr. Dewey Niedecken will have charge of the singing and music.

People of every denominational affiliation are invited to attend and assist in the meeting.

SHELL STATION HOST TO ROTARY PARTY

Chief Engineer R. B. Wiar and his charming wife, and employees of the Shell Oil Station north of Hamlin were hosts at a delightful lawn party for the Rotary members, their Rotaryans, and a number of invited guests, Thursday evening from seven to ten o'clock.

Rotarian Wiar and his wife greeted the Hamlin Rotary Club and others on the spacious company lawn Tuesday in a manner that charmed everyone. The company has lovely lawns and the great open spaces guarantee plenty of refreshing breeze, making a setting fit for kings.

The Rotary program was sponsored this week by Rotarian Cassle, and the Rotaryans co-operated with their fellows by bringing well filled baskets of fried chicken, salads, pickles, cakes, sandwiches and plenty of iced tea and lemonade while Rotary men furnished the plates, spoons, napkins and twenty big round black-green iced-cold watermelons. Just imagine!

Eating chicken and other good things was the first number of the program, and this was followed by some very interesting games in charge of two prominent Lions, Ted Russell and Arlie Cassle. Game after game proved effective to mix and mingle each and everyone with the other fellow—then the melon feast, and what a circle!

At ten P. M. the entire "Shell family" received the heartiest expressions of appreciation for the good time each guest had enjoyed.

Meeting In Progress At Baptist Church

Wednesday evening of this week as a kind of preface for us to say we began a ten days revival at the Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Reynolds and daughter, Lurame, are directing the music for this series of services. Mr. Reynolds is at the head of the Department of Music at the Southwestern Theological Seminary at Fort Worth. He is recognized as the outstanding man in the field of Gospel music in all the south. He is a consecrated Christian and has directed the music in the larger churches of the south.

Mrs. Reynolds is at the piano. If you have never heard her play you have missed much. I do not overstate when I say she is the best pianist in all the land.

Lurame is an accomplished violinist. You will enjoy hearing her. We are fortunate in having these people come our way. They come with one purpose and that is to be of service.

Rev. J. D. Brannon, our District Missionary, will be here Sunday and stay through the following week. He has been with us before and is an outstanding evangelist.

We want to urge everyone to attend these services. Let us pray for a revival that will reach the entire community. Come and bring someone with you.

Services daily 10:00 A. M. and 8:00 P. M.

J. HENRY LITTLETON, Pastor.

EDITORIAL COMMENT:

Several years ago the Herald adopted the policy of requiring each and every church organization to do their own announcing, more especially regarding a series of meetings. This is just as true in the church of our own choice as in others.

The Herald also has a policy of adding whatsoever we desire or have the time to say about church activities. And we make no apologies for backing up each and every effort to advance the Christian Spirit in this community, regardless of doctrines and beliefs, so long as we believe those engaged in Christian activities are genuinely sincere, and often times we show sympathy when our belief in some activities are not so strong, but in that case, for fear we are likely to be wrong, we show that we are willing to lend a helpful hand, as far as the publicity is concerned.

The above two paragraphs serve that the meeting announced above, by our pastor, began on the past Wednesday night, and that the first service in which the song and musical leader, Dr. I. E. Reynolds, his wife, as pianist and his daughter, Miss Lurame, violinist, took part, proved to a great extent that this family are really artists, and create in your heart that there is gospel and worship in song and instrument. We say "Dr." Reynolds, and that means "master" for Mr. Reynolds is at the head of the Music Department of a great institution, the Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth.

If Dr. Reynolds and his family grow in favor as they began Wednesday evening, somewhere else than the auditorium of the Baptist Church will have to be found to hold the people. But on Sunday night another magnetic personality is to join Rev. Littleton, and do the preaching. District Evangelist Brannon, is one of Texas' greatest preachers, and with the leadership of Reynolds and the sermons of Brannon, certainly many people will be attracted to this meeting.

There is something about a real gospel service, in song or sermon, that appeals even to the hardest non-Christian. It is what the world craves and what will do the world the most good, despite the great wave of sentiment to the contrary. Everything contrary to the Bible perishes, and there is plenty of proof of that statement. If you believe otherwise, that's your choice.

MEETING AT HITSON

Beginning Friday night, August 23rd, Hitson Baptist Church will have prayer service, continuing each night until Monday night when meeting begins.

Brother Chas. R. Smith, former pastor, will preach. Everyone has a special invitation to come and be with us.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Ebert and Oscar Nelson went to Calvert last week in response to a message that an old friend of theirs had died. Nelson drove the car for them.

To Will Rogers . . .

You never should have gone to fly
Such hazards, was the common cry—

The heart of America too numb to speak—
To know Will Rogers no more may greet
Them on the air, the stage; the studio; the polo field—
Hearts sink—weighed down—his humor sealed—

But irrepressible Will would ever be
Riding hard in plane, on "hoss" to see
New lands and people—shake the hand
Of every race with kindness—man to man.

Ambassador of good will—one man—a mountain of cheer—
The ideal son of every father—the nation's tonic—clear
Thought with a heart-turn which routed gloom
Like shadows from the dawn on prairies, where there's room
To grow big in the saddle and hog-tie steers
In nothing flat—and wonder at the fears
Which stampede men—to rustlin' and guns.

Will knew (learned it from the raw in the sun's Glare and the cold rain) that in the hollow of HIS hand,
Will knew, life and death and luck stand
Subject to HIS choice and one's appointed time.

There are no words—only tears of loss—for in every clime
Under God's Sun, the eternal speaks again
And Will, beloved member of every fireside, friend,
Kind immortal cowboy is riding west—
For we know by the papers—for we know—
It's curtain—and rest.

MRS. WILEY POST'S PARENTS RESIDE NEAR SWEETWATER

"It must have been an act of providence that caused Mae to turn back in California and return to Ponca City, Oklahoma, instead of continuing on the fated plane with Wiley and Rogers," said D. J. Lane of the Divide community this morning when notified of the tragedy that instantly took the life of his son-in-law, Wiley Post, and the noted humorist, Will Rogers, in the Alaska crash.

The radio which had been used to keep the Lane family posted on all the flight made by Post was not in running order this week and they failed to pick up the flash of the crash.

News of the tragedy was sent to them by a neighbor, Brit Linn, just a few minutes before the Reporter staff man arrived at the rural home.

Naturally the tragedy came as a shock to Mr. and Mrs. Lane who said they had tried to prepare themselves for such a message since the noted round-the-world flier began his career years ago.

Mrs. C. H. Denson, a sister to Mrs. Post, and teacher at Claytonville, was notified of the crash by the Reporter.

Roy Laine, only brother of Mae Laine Post, was speechless for a minute when told of the tragic Post-Rogers crash, this morning. He was chopping cotton in a nearby field to the Laine home a mile west of the Divide.

Mrs. J. A. Wilhite, who had been visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. S. Magee, was called back to Harlingen, Monday by an accident to her husband, who was injured in a car-truck collision.

Dr. L. S. Magee was called to Tyler last Friday by the serious illness of his brother, Hon. J. S. Magee, former member of the Texas legislature. He is better and Dr. Magee returned Tuesday morning.

Attorney Roy Hartwell of Dallas, came over last Thursday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hartwell. Roy has an office all his own and doing fine.

YOU ASK

"HOW ARE WE GOING TO VOTE?"

It is perfectly appropriate for one to ask a newspaper man, "how are you going to vote?" You mean "on the amendments to our constitution?"

Constitutional amendments either close up gaps or open them up into fields of action so vital, that it is a serious thing to vote either way on most of them.

No. 1 (OLD AGE PENSIONS)

From our information and experience the last few years, and in view of the fact that the Congress has passed the Social Security Bill, and that bill provides a means of taking care of the needy old persons, and provides that the states can join the Federal Government in this form of help, and in as much as about 28 states have already passed constitutional amendments and acts to comply with this old age pension plan, we deem it within the power and a duty to our needy old people to not only vote for this amendment but to urge others to do likewise. The proposed amendments is exactly in line with the act passed by congress. Very

6. For amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas abolishing the fee system of compensating all district officers, and all county officers in counties having a population of 20,000 or more; and authorizing the Commissioners' Court to determine whether county officers and precinct officers in counties containing less than 20,000 population may be compensated on a fee basis or on a salary basis.

Against amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas abolishing the fee system of compensating all district officers, and all county officers in counties having a population of 20,000 or more; and authorizing the Commissioners' Court to determine whether county officers and precinct officers in counties containing less than 20,000 population may be compensated on a fee basis or on a salary basis.

7. For the amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas permitting the furnishing of free textbooks to every child of scholastic age attending any school within this State.

Against the amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas permitting the furnishing of free textbooks to every child of scholastic age attending any school within this State.

few will ever get any old age help unless they absolutely deserve it. Scratch out "Against" in No. 1.

No. 2. (THE INSANE AMENDMENT)

This amendment merely changes the present cumbersome, inhuman and unreasonable, method of finding out if a person is hopelessly "sick" mentally. Just why should we have a sheriff arrest and confine a relative who is suffering from insanity? Just as well snatch up a member of your family who may be sick with fever and "out of his head" as to arrest and try one when he is mentally sick. Let's vote for this amendment and provide a way for a loved one to be treated kindly and scientifically in some quiet state hospital for 90 days. That's what amendment No. 2 seeks to do. Again we say "vote for this one."

No. 5. (SUSPENDED SENTENCE LAW)

This seeks to enable Courts to permit suspended sentences on persons, convicted of crime. It means the court would lay down conditions for the suspension and the convicted person would answer to the court. There are some dangers here, but perhaps it would not be worse than we now have. So with misgivings, we shall scratch "Against" and that means vote for No. 5.

No. 6 (ABOLISHES FEES OF OFFICE)

Read No. 6 again, it is a well known thing, and surely it will pass. We do not believe in paying an officer a salary and then a fee to do his sworn duty. Cut his fees off and if he will not work, retire him from the job.

No. 7. (FREE TEXT BOOKS)

Watch out folks! Do you want to hurt your schools, the system, and place a greater burden on tax payers. Then vote against this mixed up innocent sounding amendment. It not only asks for an unreasonable thing in text books, but the amendment has a joker that messes up the possibilities of apportioning the money due your child. Certainly scratch the "For" in No. 7.

Then you say, "According to your editorial, we should only OK four of the seven." That is right. Vote for No. 1 and No. 2. Against No. 3, Against No. 4, For No. 5, For No. 6 and Against No. 7.

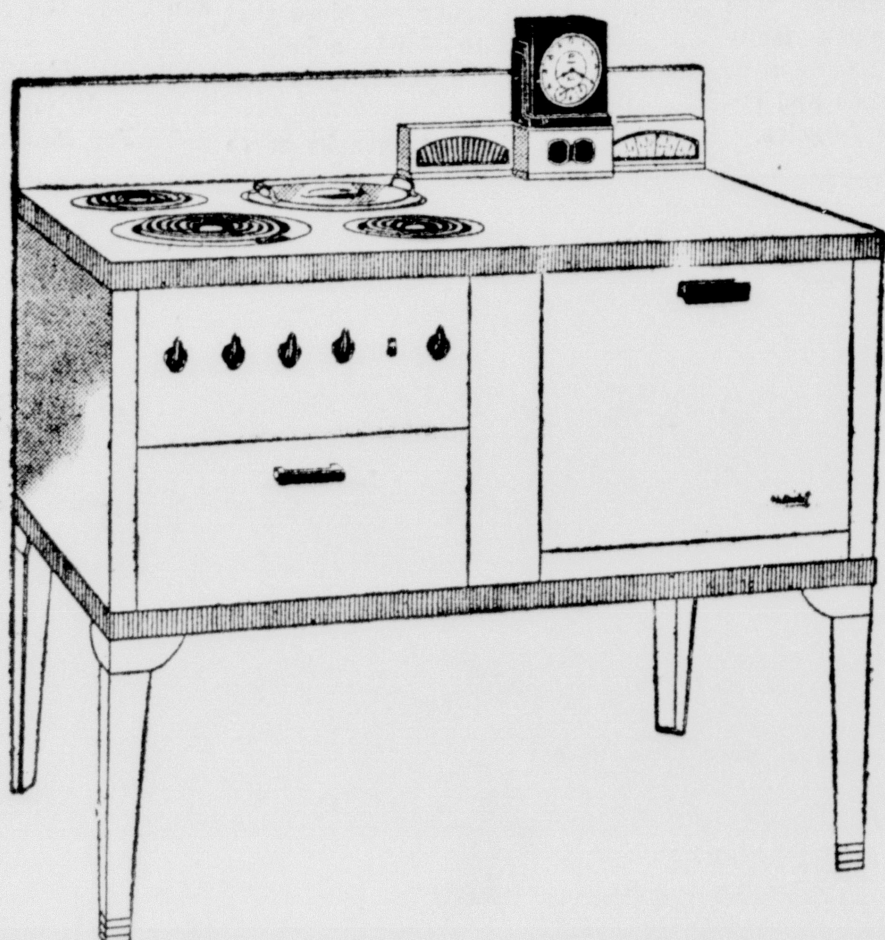

If you think you are nearer right than WE, cut down on it and scratch as you think best, which everyone should do.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fletcher and children motored to Boston, Mass., last week to attend the National Rural Letter Carriers Convention that assembled this week. Down here in Hamlin we say "Bill" but at the Convention Mr. Fletcher is National Treasurer of the Organization and they use the term Treasurer W. L. Fletcher, Jr.

No. 4 TO AMEND CONSTITUTION

If we pass this amendment, any old legislative session can submit an amendment, and such a plan will increase cost, enable lobbyist and politicians to graft on the state. Vote No. Scratch "FOR" on No. 4.

CONTROL OF CREDIT A BASIC QUESTION

Economist Describes Conflict Between Opposing Social View-points on Government Bank.

Agitation for government banking is a phase of the conflict between our present "personal competitive enterprise system" in America and the "compulsory state collective security system" of several European States, Virgil Jordan, President National Industrial Conference Board, says in an article in a recent issue of "Banking" published by the American Bankers Association.

"They involve irreconcilable principles of human conduct and philosophy of life and the conflict between them is the key to the economic, social and political struggles of today," Mr. Jordan says.

The enterprise system of which "the development of the United States has been the unparalleled example, depends for its motive power of progress upon the inexhaustible reservoir of energy in the individual desire for personal advancement in prosperity, but it guarantees nothing to the individual save freedom of opportunity," the article says in part.

The collectivist security system, he says, "places all emphasis upon the maintenance of a minimum standard of living for the mass without regard to the creative power of the individual. Quite simply the security system involves the modern form of the philosophy of the slave society." He continues:

A Sign of the Times

"The many-sided movement toward governmental banking, deposit insurance and currency management is the most direct and decisive expression of the universal instinctive search for security which is the sign of the times. In America our so-called social security legislation is an important indication of the drift away from the enterprise system toward a collectivist security system with concentration of authority in a central Federal government."

"The nationalization of credit is crucial and indispensable for complete state control of the complex industrial and business structure of this country. The drive toward government banking and monetary control is most determined because the relation of the state to credit goes to the root of the enterprise system. A collective security system is inconceivable without nationalization of credit. An enterprise system is inconceivable with it."

Under a collective security system, based on government banking the controls "lie solely in the hands of a few persons and depend upon their judgment, will or caprice," Mr. Jordan says, adding that it is they who must determine "upon the basis of some predetermined plan or upon pure political expediency of the moment, what lines of industry and even what individual enterprises shall have access to the credit reservoir." The state, he says, has the power of life and death over all enterprise that utilizes credit.

"Every government is an organ of party power and must respond to the will of the party that put it in power," the Jordan article says. "Under unchecked government operation it is an inescapable tendency of every government to depreciate and for credit to expand. However much it may be in the interest of the nation, deflation is too dangerous politically for any government to undertake it deliberately."

"In the end government banking and currency management resolve themselves simply into the use of credit as a political instrument of power, and this instrument tends to be used in the long run for expropriation of the savings of the community."

THE FARM BUDGET

By DAN H. OTIS,

Agricultural Director, American Bankers Association

Inventories aid in the formation of a farm budget. Some banks, as well as the Farm Credit Administration, recommend outlining in advance the method of using production loans. Under this plan provision is made for monthly expenditures and funds are granted to the borrower in accordance with the budget plan. The budget helps to show how loans can be repaid.

With the accumulated data from previous inventories and budgets, budget making becomes easier and more accurate and valuable. As one branch of the farming plan requires more expenditure, such as for new machinery, fencing, livestock, etc., it may be necessary to limit other branches in order to meet these pressing requirements.

The budget helps to formulate a financial program. It is of special importance in arranging to meet special or large expenditures. If the income and expenditures are carefully budgeted it prevents the spending of money needed for interest and taxes before the time of their payment arrives. It helps to provide a reserve.

The Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association feels that this type of work is so important that special emphasis has been placed upon the field of farm inventories, budgets and credit statements as one of its national projects for farm aid.

PUBLIC CONFIDENCE RESTORED BY BANKS

American Bankers Association Describes Its Activities to Create Better Understanding Regarding Banks

NEW YORK.—Eight different lines of activity through which the American Bankers Association is constantly aiming to promote better public understanding and opinion in regard to banking and the attitude of bankers toward legislation are described in detail in a statement made public here by R. S. Hecht, president of the association.

The aim, he says, is "to strengthen the real basis for good opinion in regard to the banks," through fostering informative bank advertising in the newspapers and in other ways. The statement was issued in reply to suggestions received urging a nationwide public educational program in regard to "the business of banking and its place in the life of our country."

Mr. Hecht declares that "we have tried very hard to convince the public that the banking fraternity has truly profited by the lessons of the past, is determined to approach all questions of banking policy from the broad viewpoint of public welfare and is prepared to carry its full share of the burden in connection with all efforts to restore sound prosperity in this country."

The Means Employed

In describing the various measures of the association "to exert a beneficial influence on public opinion regarding the functions, methods and operations of banks," Mr. Hecht enumerated the following activities:

1. The Public Education Commission, which prepares plain language talks about banking for use of bankers and others before schools, civic clubs and over the radio.

2. The Constructive Customer Relations program, installed in many banks to help quality bank employees to promote a better informed and more sympathetic attitude among their customers regarding banking.

3. The Publicity Department, supplying city and country daily and weekly newspapers with articles regarding banking and allied subjects and furnishing the general press with news and information regarding the activities of the association.

4. The Advertising Department, supplying members of the association with a series of informative newspaper advertisements setting forth in brief, popular language the methods and policies under which banks operate, their effective practices for protecting depositors' funds, the services they render and the various ways in which they cooperate with business in their own communities in fostering sound recovery and progress.

5. The Executive Officers and the Committee on Banking Studies, who are active, particularly at Washington, in consulting with Administration and Congressional leaders in formulating proposals for banking reform based on broad lines of public welfare.

6. The Agricultural Commission, promoting among bankers in the farm districts the practice of aiding their farm customers in installing on their farms better financial and operating methods.

7. The American Institute of Banking, having primarily to do with the technical education of the younger banker, but now directing these efforts toward also playing a part in improving public relations for banking as a whole, particularly through stressing the public responsibilities and the ethical aspects of practical banking.

8. The publication of "Banking," official organ of the association, circulating among bankers, bank directors, business executives, economists, law firms, government departments, libraries, colleges, public schools and other publications, presenting articles regarding banking and banking viewpoints.

The Objective Sought

In commenting on the foregoing program, Mr. Hecht says that it is not "the primary objective to attract attention particularly to the American Bankers Association as such, but rather to focus attention on and give impetus to those ideas which it believes are beneficial in promoting understanding and solidarity among banking, business and the public." He adds:

"Our program for the development of satisfactory public relations for banking does not consist merely of newspaper publicity. It is calculated to produce a continuous and cumulative effect by various efforts which are aimed to work day in and day out to strengthen the real basis for good opinion in regard to the banks."

"To have favorable things said about the banking business in the newspapers and over the radio is, the association recognizes, very helpful toward creating a sound public opinion regarding banking. But the association believes that the most important thing ultimately is to foster throughout the banking profession the doing sincerely of those things that reflect favorably the sound, helpful practices of the business of banking, and that then the true news of its constructive activities will constitute the best answers to misrepresentations aimed at banks and bankers."

Predicts Farm Loan Expansion

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. — With marked improvement in agriculture already apparent, and further improvement confidently expected, a greatly expanded volume of farm credit will be required, especially short-term credit, according to a statement here recently by W. L. Myers, Governor of the Farm Credit Administration, Washington, D. C. He was speaking before the Graduate School of Banking, conducted jointly by the American Institute of Banking Section of the American Bankers Association and Rutgers University.

"Some people have expressed a fear that the Cooperative Production Credit Associations are threatening the business of country banks, but these institutions have neither the desire nor the resources to monopolize a field which is still in the infancy of development," Governor Myers said. "Farmers who govern their credit on time or by charge accounts have a basis for cash loans and should be buying their credit from a bank, production credit association or other institutions that sell credit on a business basis."

SONG FESTIVAL PROMISED RANGER

RANGER, Texas, Aug. 19.—A real Song Festival is promised those who will attend the big Singing Convention, which will be held in Ranger Saturday night, August 24, and Sunday, August 25.

Several noted quartettes and singers from over Texas have been invited to attend and take part, and some have already notified the Local Singing Association of their intention of being here.

The convention is being sponsored by the Local Singing Association, of which Dr. A. K. Wier is president, the Trustees of the Independent School District and the Chamber of Commerce.

The convention will be held in Ranger's new $40,000.00 auditorium, which is a recent addition to Ranger's school system.

Over 500 letters have gone out to singers of this section of the State inviting them to take part, and no doubt the seating capacity of the auditorium will be taxed to take care of the crowds.

Every singer in this section of the state is invited to take part and enjoy this unusual treat of hearing noted singers and quartettes.

The three organizations sponsoring the convention have formed committees to do everything possible to make the meeting a big success, and they want everyone to feel welcome to be here and take part in this great Song Festival.

LITTLE LIGHTS ON LIVING

THE AMERICAN SPEAKING VOICE

THE American speaking voice is usually unlovely. So much so in fact that when one hears an exceptionally well modulated low-pitched speaking voice, it attracts attention at once. To my mind it is one phase of the human personality that broadcasts one's culture almost more than any other evident thing. One may be well groomed, and may have the manners of a Chesterfield, but when his speaking voice is heard he unconsciously brings to the fore all the cultural heritage from his family tree.

I am sure it is not because I used to sing that makes me sensitive to speaking voices, for I have conversed with singers of unusual merit whose singing voices were soft and smooth as velvet, but whose speaking voices, strange to say, were as rasping and coarse grained as their singing voices were lovely. I have heard high lyric sopranos with low heavy and unlovely speaking voices until I wondered they did not offend themselves when speaking. It is a singing master's duty to cultivate both the singing and the speaking voice. This, however, is not always done. If some of our singers and teachers of public speech suffer from the American speaking voice, what can be expected of the laity?

When traveling in foreign countries the contrast is evident, for the occidental voice carries in its every speech the tension and "high stringency" of a national life and manners. We are as a nation high keyed and hurried and our life is reflected in our speech. Our modern hurry-scurry is not conducive to placidity of mind or body, so how could our speaking voice, the outward index, respond differently? Think what our children are absorbing from the noisy voices and jargons that come into our homes daily over the radio. Our sports, too, like baseball and football games, help to whack away the voices of American crowds to a pathetic degree.

It is said that the little mountain rollers, the exquisite muffled tiny "singing" voices of the Hartz mountains, are trained in a kind of away from noise of any kind. Artist violinists, slipped in heavy felt, play with mute-violin, hour after hour for these little concertists to imitate the quality of their notes. After several weeks, the reward comes for one can hear the velvety notes of these little birds trilling and warbling "soto voce," like the hushed exquisite notes of a violin with its mute. If birds can be so trained, what could we do with our own speaking voices and those of our children?

For your Health's sake . . . HEAT Your ENTIRE House

If you are susceptible to colds, and most people have from two to three each winter, you owe it to your health to heat your home adequately as a protection against sudden changes in temperature which are a contributory cause of colds.

With the entire house properly heated and ventilated, you have greater comfort and the satisfaction of knowing that you are taking the precaution of guarding your family's health.

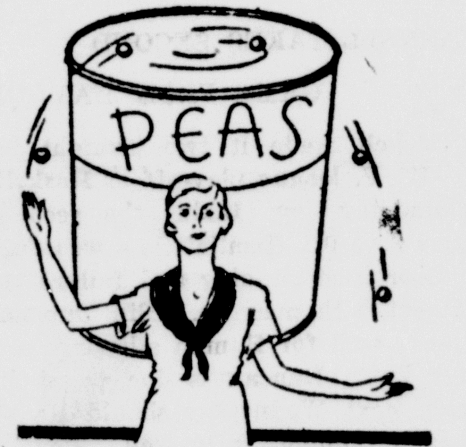

One single illness to a member of your family will cost you far more in money and suffering than the few dollars you will spend for adequate heat to combat winter colds. So look over your heating equipment now. Some might need replacing altogether with modern equipment. Whatever it takes, do it now, for August is the opportune time to buy advantageously modern gas heating equipment. For your health's sake, heat your entire home.

Those Little Green Globules

PEAS to you,—those little green globules which we are constantly discovering in the dishes which taste best for summer. They pop up in patty-shell dishes, in light summer soups, in sauces to make fish taste better—almost anywhere you look, at this season of the year, you will find those little green globules.

So if you are planning to entertain this summer—and you'll want to do a lot of it while the delphiniums are in bloom and the dahlias are budding—see that your shelves are well stocked with canned peas of various sizes. Serve the tiny ones as a vegetable, the medium sized peas in salads and reserve the larger, less expensive size, to simmer nice and tender in soups.

Here Are Some Recipes

Cauliflower and Pea Salad: Boil sufficient cauliflower to make two cups of the cauliflowerlets. (Boil until tender but not mushy.) Marinate separately for one hour, the cauliflowerlets, one cup of canned peas and one can of asparagus tips. Then toss lightly together the peas and cauliflower and pile on crisp lettuce. Arrange the asparagus tips around the edge, and garnish with mayonnaise. This serves eight persons.

Pea Oysters: Press sufficient canned peas through a sieve to obtain one cup of pea pulp. Add one tablespoon melted butter, a few drops of onion juice and the following sifted dry ingredients: one-fourth cup flour, one-fourth teaspoon baking powder, three-fourths teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper. Add one well-beaten egg yolk and fold in the stiffly-beaten white. Drop by small spoonfuls in hot deep fat (374-390 degrees) and fry until golden brown. Drain and serve with the meat course, either plain or with white sauce. This serves eight persons.

DRAWING A PICTURE OF YOUR TOWN

There is something about every human being called "pride."

Even the back-woods inhabitants, of the eastern bottom lands, who have but little incentive to keep things tidied up, feel a bit humiliated when a stranger comes up and sees, unkept, ugly filthy things about the premises.

Let's draw a picture of your own Hamlin town. Your own street and your own block and lot. Is it a picture that means an asset to the citizenship, to the surrounding community and is it an asset to you, Mr. Citizen?

One of two things: What the stranger sees in a town as he passes or visit in Hamlin, is favorable or unfavorable. He passes on and after his trip is over or his visit is made he turns his thoughts back to the place or places he has seen. The picture is made. It was there when he arrived. The citizens made the picture and the tourist or visitor had but to look.

It does not require money to create, in a town, factors that mean an asset. But it does take plenty of care, diligence, work and planning.

The "Hotten-tot" back in the far forks of some isolated section needs nothing more.

It's just too bad for visitors or tourists to remember Hamlin for anything except the good.

Let's begin to think of and name in our own minds some of the best assets that make Hamlin a good place in which to live, and let's ask ourselves how much of these assets are we responsible for. What do we need that other towns, not so good or so large, have. Figure out why Hamlin people have not the assets that some other place, not so good, is enjoying.

Hamlin is considered a town of unusual "cordiality," friendly Hamlin goes a long way. Something to brag about that every town can not claim, or is too Scottish to get. Lots of things we can enumerate that would be good to possess but we do not need.

We are glad to claim: Healthy Location—Beautiful surroundings—Good public schools—Four modern church buildings—Attractive theatres—Golf links—Low living costs—Low death rate—Community center—Chamber of commerce—Two service clubs—Literary, Music and Social Clubs—Good fire department—Boy Scouts, and a good small hospital, and many pretty modern homes.

IMPROVEMENTS NEEDED

Hamlin needs more tree-lined streets, they can be had with enough planning and work. Hamlin needs a better supply of water, and a better sewerage disposal plant. Hamlin needs a public market or trades square. Hamlin needs a zoning town plan, and lots of other things like, better improved or paved streets, a central play park well improved and accurately supervised and controlled—more home-owned homes—vacant lots changed from a weed patch and dumping ground to a place of beauty and attraction, and Hamlin needs official milk inspection, electric inspection, fire inspection and reports.

There are so many lines of improvements that would make a good friendly town into a bigger and better "Friendly Hamlin", if only that feeling of pride could be sharpened. In other words, if our faces are dirty and our hair is tousled, it's because of a lack of "something."

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Andress and baby boy, of Brownfield, came down Sunday to spend three or four days with his brother, Will Andress and family. Buck is one of Brownfield's best barbers. My Favorite Recipes

Frances Lee Barton says:

EVER since I discovered the quick easy way to put up my own jellies and jams, I've felt so rich! When I go into my cellar these days I find neat rows of simply grand looking jars. You'll find this Sour Cherry Jelly a delicious standby, it's tart enough to go with meats and yet not too tart for biscuits and bread and butter. That bottled fruit peckin has saved simply quarts of berries and juice I'd have lost by putting up my fruit the old, hard way.

Sour Cherry Jelly

3½ cups (1¾ lbs.) juice; 7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar; 1 bottle fruit peckin. To prepare juice, stem and crush about 3 pounds fully ripe cherries. Do not pit. Add ½ cup water, bring to a boil, cover, and simmer 10 minutes. Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. (For stronger cherry flavor, add ¼ teaspoon almond extract before pouring hot jelly.)

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add bottled fruit peckin, stirring constantly. Then add to a rolling boil and boil hard 5 minutes. Remove from fire, skim, and bottle. Makes about 19 quarts (19 jars of one quart each).

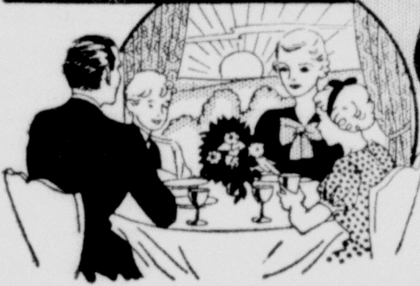

REVIVAL AT PLASTERCO

The Baptist Revival in Plasterco is now in progress. Bro. W. R. Derr, pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church, Abilene, will come to preach Sunday night, August 25, and throughout the remaining services. Everyone is invited.

PLANNING THE HOME

FOOD SUPPLY

With the food requirements in mind the first step is the making of a food budget, which is simply a list of the kinds and amounts of food needed for a year by the family. Food budgets are seldom exactly alike because some families differ in size, in appetite and in taste. When the food budget is made the demonstrator can then figure out how much of each kind of food can be obtained, that is, how much garden, how much orchard, how many cows, how many chickens, how many meat animals must be provided.

Every family must work out its own food budget, but helpful suggestions may be found in the budget planned for a family of five, consisting of two adults and three children.

VEGETABLES—One-half acre or a plot 10x150 feet should furnish plenty of fresh vegetables and also vegetables to can. Allow about one foot of row space for each pound of vegetables desired. Leafy vegetables should be served daily. A 3 month's canned supply for the winter season should consist of 84 containers, adding 36 more for emergencies and company, making a total of 120 containers of leafy vegetables for a family of five.

STARCHY VEGETABLES required, consist of sweet and Irish potatoes, parsnips and young roasting ears. Most home makers plan to serve corn about twice a week for 40 non-productive weeks, making a total of 80 cans and adding 20 cans for emergency the total would be 100 containers.

Other Vegetables and Fruit should be canned in accordance with the requirements above at least 150 cans of beef, pork, sausage, stew, chicken, chili, scrapple, etc., should be canned for the average family of five.

RESUME OF WHAT PANTRY DEM., EL PASO CLUB, IS DOING

Pantry Demonstrator, Mrs. Ernest

Livingston, of the El Paso Club, was in the C. H. D. A.'s office one day last week and gave a resume of what she had been doing the past few months. Mrs. Livingston canned over 400 quarts during the month of July, besides drying two bushels of peaches. There is to be found on Mrs. Livingston's pantry shelves 688 quarts of fruits, vegetables, relishes, etc., not including 75 No. 3 cans of pumpkin which was being canned that day and also one half bushel of tomatoes which was to be made into relishes and chow-chow.

Mrs. Livingston says, "my children have worked just like I have in this canning. When we can the entire family is in on the job, for it is too much for one to can for a large family." Mrs. Livingston also states "I have sold $6.10 worth of peas, squash, okra and other vegetables out of my truck patch the past two weeks, besides selling $5.00 worth of fruit and vegetables that I had canned." Due to dry weather, hot winds, and insects, Mrs. Livingston will not have much more garden produce to can, as her garden is not fixed for irrigation.

Mrs. Jessie Waggoner returned Tuesday from Fort Worth where she had been for several days with her cousin, who is seriously ill.

I took Cardui and found it helped me in every way, making me regular and stopping the pain. This quieted my nerves, making my health much better." . . . Summer Whimsies About Food

WARM weather plays pranks with appetites. Haven't you known your well-regulated family who like the things they are supposed to like, and enjoy their meals nine months in the year, to suddenly go berserk about food, when the temperature rises?

For this malady, dietitians prescribe an entire change of menus, and a distinct brightening up of the table. If your table linens have been white or pastel shades all winter, use some of the new dark linens. Change everything. And above all things change your menus. Serve colorful foods. Do you know the infinite possibilities of change of color and flavor by using tomatoes plentifully on your menus? Their healthful properties will pep up faded appetites, and suddenly your whole dinner will appear appetizing—no matter what the thermometer says.

Proof of the Pudding

Tomato Ring with Persian Melon Balls: Strain the contents of one No. 2 can of tomatoes, add one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon sugar and bring to boiling. Soak five teaspoons gelatin in four tablespoons cold water and dissolve in the hot tomato juice. Cool and chill. When about ready to set, add one-half cup of mayonnaise, pour into a wet ring mold and set in the refrigerator to stiffen. Meanwhile cut a Persian melon in small balls and marinate in French dressing. When ready to serve, turn the tomato ring out onto a round platter and fill the center with melon balls. Around the ring place small hearts of lettuce filled with mayonnaise. This serves eight persons.

Steak Casserole: Cut one pound slice of round steak in four servings, salt and pepper each piece and roll in flour. Brown the meat in drippings, then lay them in a casserole and slice over the top one onion, one carrot and one-half of a green pepper. Pour over the contents of one can of tomato soup and two tablespoons water. Cover and bake in a slow oven—350 degrees—for one and one-half hours or until the meat is tender. This serves four persons.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD

FOR MRS. BILL CAVE

Funeral services for Mrs. Bill Cave, 31, were held here at 4:00 P. M. Saturday, August 10, from the First Baptist Church with Rev. J. S. Tierce officiating. He was assisted by Rev. P. E. Yarbrough of Baird and Rev. E. L. Cates of Spur.

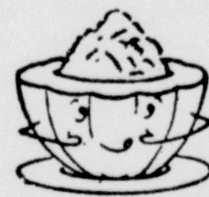

Mrs. Cave was found Friday morning about noon in an outhouse of the family home with a bullet wound near her heart. She died near Sagerton while being rushed to a Stamford hospital.

Mr. Cave, who was in the house with Joe Wesley Boyd, who was visiting in the home, heard a pistol shot and found Mrs. Cave unconscious with a gun belonging to the family beside her. Despondency over ill health was cause of the tragedy.

Besides her husband she is survived by two small daughters; her father, Frank Britton of Clifton, Texas; two brothers, Tom Britton of Clifton Mills and Oscar Britton of Spur; two sisters, Mrs. Frank Niel of Valley Mills and Mrs. J. C. Cutler of Spur. —ASPERMONT STAR.

Raby Neely of Dalhart, is back in Hamlin. He has lived in Dalhart nearly five years, and now he has a wife and one boy, over two years old. He has a job with Jess Young tailoring.

BREAKFAST has the undeserved reputation of being the meal in which it is most difficult to get variety. It is admittedly difficult to vary the traditional eggs, bacon, and toast—but the cereal course can have many and delicious variations. That modern blessing—ready-to-eat cereal—crisp and tempting, can be combined with an infinite variety of fruits. A delicious Sunday morning treat is a Cantaloupe Toasties Cup—ice cold cantaloupe filled to overflowing with crisp, golden corn flakes. Try it some Sunday morning—or any morning for that matter.

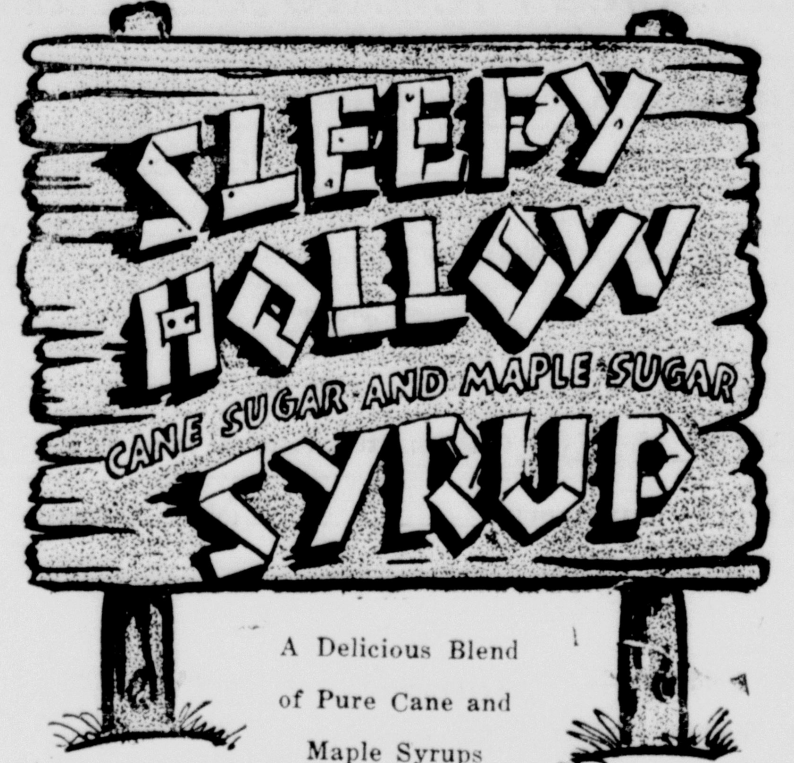

Cantaloupe Toasties Cup: Chill small ripe cantaloupe. Cut in halves, allowing one half to each serving. Remove seeds. Cut thin slice from bottom of each half so that cantaloupe will rest firmly on plate. Fill center with corn flakes. Serve with light cream and powdered sugar.

PICGLY WIGGLY STORES

FOREIGN

European observers who can spare time from the Italian-Ethiopian trouble, are casting cynical glances on Germany these days.

Another Hitler "purge" is underway—bloodless as yet, though many fear blood-letting will soon start.

Objects of persecution are, of course, the Jews. And along with them are the Catholics, clergymen of all denominations, and members of the Stalheim—the German equivalent of the American Legion. Reason for the attack on the veterans is that they contain "reactionaries" in other words, men who are opposed to the Hitler dictatorship.

Stricter censorship prevails in Germany. Individual liberties are further prescribed. Concentration camps are jammed. Hitler's sword again hangs above those Germans who think him less than divine.
